Part II Organizational Action Attach additional statements if needed. See back of form for additional questions.

14 Describe the organizational action and, if applicable, the date of the action or the date against which shareholders' ownership is measured for the action ▶ On February 1, 2022, Alphabet Inc. (the "Company") announced that its Board of Directors had approved and declared a 20-for-1 stock split of the Company's Class A, Class B and Class C stock in the form of a stock dividend (the "Stock Split"), subject to stockholder approval of an amendment to the Company's Amended and Restated Certificate of Incorporation to increase the number of authorized shares of Class A, Class B and Class C stock to accommodate the Stock Split. On June 1, 2022, at the 2022 Annual Stockholder Meeting, the stockholders approved the necessary amendment. Pursuant to the Stock Split, each of the Company's stockholders of record at the close of business on July 1, 2022 (the "Record Date") received after the close of business on July 15, 2022, a stock dividend of 19 additional shares of the same class of stock held by such stockholder as of the Record Date.

15 Describe the quantitative effect of the organizational action on the basis of the security in the hands of a U.S. taxpayer as an adjustment per share or as a percentage of old basis ▶ As a result of the Stock Split, for each share of Class A, Class B and Class C stock held by a shareholder as of the Record Date, such shareholder received 19 additional shares of the same class. In accordance with Section 307(a) of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended from time to time ("IRC"), each shareholder is required to allocate the aggregate tax basis in his or her shares held immediately prior to the Stock Split among the Class A, Class B and Class C shares of stock held immediately after the Stock Split. As a result, the number of shares held by each shareholder was multiplied by 20, but each shareholder's total basis and proportionate interest in the Company remained the same.

16 Describe the calculation of the change in basis and the data that supports the calculation, such as the market values of securities and the valuation dates ▶ We caution that this is not tax advice and is provided only as guidance. Investors should consult their tax advisors regarding the tax consequences of the Stock Split to them in light of their individual circumstances. A shareholder will multiply the basis in each share of stock held before the Stock Split by 5% to determine the basis, after the Stock Split, in that original share and the additional shares distributed in the Stock Split with respect to such share. A shareholder that owns different classes of stock and/or has acquired shares at different prices should consult its tax advisor regarding the allocation of its basis in the Company shares in light of its specific facts. The Record Date of this transaction is July 1, 2022, and the distribution date is July 15, 2022. The data that supports this calculation is each shareholder's basis immediately before the distribution and the number of shares issued in the distribution with respect to such shares.

Part II Organizational Action (continued)

17 List the applicable Internal Revenue Code section(s) and subsection(s) upon which the tax treatment is based ▶

The applicable Internal Revenue Code sections upon which the tax treatment is based are Sections 305(a) and 307(a).

Under IRC 305(a), the distribution is not taxable to shareholders.

Under IRC 307(a), each shareholder's basis in his or her old Class A, Class B and Class C stock must be allocated between the old stock and the new stock that was distributed in the Stock Split with respect to the old stock.

18 Can any resulting loss be recognized? ▶

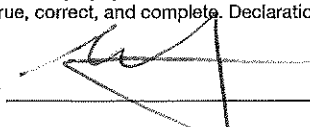

Under current law, for U.S. federal income tax purposes, there will be no U.S. taxable income, gain or loss recognized by U.S. resident shareholders in connection with the Stock Split. The laws of jurisdictions other than the United States may impose income taxes on the receipt of additional shares. The Company does not provide tax advice to its shareholders. All shareholders of the Company are urged to consult their own tax advisors regarding the particular tax consequences of the Stock Split to them in light of their individual circumstances.

19 Provide any other information necessary to implement the adjustment, such as the reportable tax year ▶

The reportable tax year is 2022 for shareholders reporting taxable income on a calendar year basis.

For shareholders reporting taxable income on a basis other than calendar year, the reportable year is the shareholder's tax year that includes July 15, 2022.
